info@zealinternational.com sales@zealinternational.com support@zealinternational.com quotation@zealinternational.com sit us at: www.zealinternational.com

Laboratry Water Bath JPI 7034

Standards:

Specification:

A water bath is a device used in the laboratories to incubate samples in water maintained at a constant temperature. Temperature may be controlled digitally or by a dial and once set, the water bath cycles on and off to ensure constancy of the temperature.

JPI 8034

Laboratory Water Bath